ITINERARY

Day 01: Stone Town

Jambo! Welcome to Zanzibar, Tanzania – an archipelagic gem filled with idyllic beaches, vibrant markets, and a varied, and sometimes dark, history. This is a place rooted in slavery, where Arabian sultans once lived and Swahili and Islamic influences blend to create an exotic island paradise steeped in centuries of history. With no planned activities today, why not throw yourself into the midst of Stone Town's maze of narrow streets – every twist and turn alive with an enticing mix of fragrant bazaars, enchanting mosques, and charming ruins. Perhaps head to one of the bars on the seafront and soak up the salty ocean air with a cocktail in hand.

Zanzibar is an archipelago of islands located 22 miles (35km) off the coast of east-central Africa. This beautiful spot is surrounded by the Indian Ocean and is a perfect escape from the world. Zanzibar is famous for many things: its turquoise-blue waters, white sandy beaches, and the near-deserted islands scattered all around.

The island's capital, Stone Town, is a UNESCO World Heritage site and is a fine example of the Swahili coastal trading towns in East Africa. Its bustling bazaars will capture your imagination as you learn more about its rich multi-cultural history. Africans, Germans, Persians, British, Indians, and Arabs have all left their mark here.

After exploring the town, the island is your oyster. Head to one of the famous sp ice plantations, visit one of the island's unique animal sanctuaries such as Cheetah's Rock or Tortoise Sanctuary, then relax on one of the many sparkling beaches this amazing
